Lakeside RV Park Newsletter

November 2009

Lakeside RV Park — Sierra County, home to Elephant Butte Lake (New Mexico's largest), Caballo Lake, the Rio Grande River and our natural hot mineral springs, is truly an Oasis of the Southwest. Here, you will enjoy a lifestyle of leisure, relaxation and inspiration. Vast scenic vistas of lakes, high desert valleys and mountain ranges intermingle with our quaint communities. A mild climate and abundant sunshine make Sierra County suitable for year-round outdoor recreation. Sierra County and Lakeside RV Park is the getaway for rejuvenating your spirit. Visit us, and stay a while . . . . Or maybe even stay forever!!

- The Snowbird Season has started. We are welcoming back many familiar faces and along with that some new ones too. Already we have enjoyed a potluck dinner and the Sunday 'Movie Night' is in full swing.
- The weather here in Elephant Butte has been nice, as usual, with cool nights [great for sleeping!] and pleasant temperatures during the day. The tours out into the desert have been enjoyed by many, with more trips to follow.

Local Area News:

Sierra County — (as stated by our local paper the Sentinel) — The record crowds at Elephant Butte Lake were treated to inarguably the best fireworks show in the 17 years that StarFire Pyrotechnics has been producing the July 4 display at the state park. Beginning with what thought was the grand finalé, the show continued for another 20 minutes with fantastic aerials and booming concussion bursts. The actual finalé was an impressive spectacle that certainly rivaled any in the state.

- Spaceport America Update: Spaceport America Breaks Ground June 19, 2009
  - Sierra County should be girding up for an influx of activity in the coming weeks, as the long awaited construction of Spaceport America is poised to begin. Officials from the New Mexico Spaceport Authority have scheduled a formal groundbreaking ceremony for Spaceport America, the world's first purpose built commercial spaceport, for Friday June 19, 2009. The actual construction will commence the first part of July with Gerald Martin Construction Management managing the project.
  - Spaceport America has been working with leading aerospace firms such as Virgin Galactic, Lockheed Martin, UP Aerospace, Microgravity Enterprises and Payload Specialties to develop commercial space business in the state of New Mexico.

Elephant Butte Lake — Is a hot spot in spring and summer for fisherman and water sport enthusiasts. Elephant Butte Lake has become one of the biggest fishing and recreational attractions in New Mexico. The lake provides a setting for every imaginable water sport and the mild climate of the area makes this lake a popular year-round destination for people all over the United States.

Turtle Back Mountain Resort (Sierra del Rio Golf Course) — Sierra Del Rio Golf Course is an active place with many people enjoying the new course and construction continues on many custom homes in the community. With the current Economic down turn our local paper spoke with the owners of the Resort and reports; Turtleback Mountain Partners are taking proactive measures to ride out current market conditions with an eye toward positioning itself for a prosperous future; with plenty of capital and a surplus of vision.
